them. All he saked from rival socioles was a recognition of his honest endeavors, to do good among the faller. He hopes by amalgamating, a musical programme of variety show order, and gospel temperance gramme of variety show order, and gospel temperance addresses, to aitract the degraded to his meetings.

Following this plan Mr. Doutney conducted his namal temperance meeting in the Wigwam, at Broadway and Thirty-fifth-st., yesterday afternoon. Short addresses were made by him, and between each addresses were made by him, and between each addresses a colored quintet sang songs and played on the banjo, "Jimmie "Clegg, when Mr. Doutney warmly commended to the audience when Mr. Doutney warmly commended to the audience as being an ex-convict and former burgiar, gave a short account of his reformation. Mrs. Doutney sang "Ninety and Nine," in a very pleasant way.

At the Cooper Institute yesterday afternoon the Rev. Dr. George Lausing Taylor, of Connecticut, delivered an Dr. George Lausing Taylor, of Connecticut, delivered an Oldress on "Moral Suasion and Legal Force as Applied to Temperance Union to work uncessingly to have such Temperance unthe state. The other speakers were the Rev. W. L. McDermot and Joseph A. Bogardus, the President of the Temperance Union. Stepers is being discussed in Quecos and Sufolk Counties, and as it has been found to work well, where tried, for the Excise Commissioners to fix the rate for licenses as high as the law will allow, it will be tried in most of the towns when the Excise Compusioners hold their first meeting in May.

PROTESTANTISM IN FRANCE.

The Rev. Reuben Saillent, of Marseilles, told of the work of the McCall Mission in France, yesterday afternoon, at the Church of the Covenant, Fark-ave, and Thirty-fifth-st. After alluding briefly to the rapid spread of Protestantism in France, Mr.

Baillent gave a history of the mission and an outline of its work. There were, he said, eighty stations in France, first being in Paris, and the number was constantly on the increase. The speaker made an appeal to all present to interest themselves in the cause of Protestantism in France.

PROSPECTS OF THE GRAIN CROPS.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

MILWAUKEE, April 8 .- The special private advices from the new centres in the grain-growing and grain-trading sections of the country, received for the use of the Chamber of Commerce here, for the week just closed, show a condition of affairs of especial importance to those interested in the markets for and movements of variable, but on the whole there has been a decidedly milder range of temperature, with considerable rain, milder ringe of temperature, with considerable rain, over a wide area, during the last few days. With the exception of a few points in the extreme Southwest, no part of the country reports any noteworthy progress in the preparations for spring work. Unless there shall be too much rain there will be active preparations for spring sowing in a few days. The frost is leaving the ground very rapidly, and the ground will soon be in good condition for the season's work. Last week's report showed tast mild weather and warm rain were needed to develop the growing winter wheat, especially in the Middle States; but, though the required conditions are present, the development has not been very marked, and the reports from that part of the country, up to the present time, do not manifest any special tone. While the fears of damage to the zrowing crop have been, in many cases, unnecessarily magnified, it is pretty clearly settled that the winter wheat crop for this year must be accidedly smaller than that of last.

ENGLAND'S GREAT CLUB SUIT.

ENGLAND'S GREAT CLUB SUIT.

It is premature to suppose that the last has been heard of the case of Chamberlaic vs. Boyd. The real point and merits of this action have been extensively misunderstood, and, in more than one quarter, studiously misrepresented. The question is not whether, when candidates for election at a club have been rejected, they ought to invoke the machinery of the law as it stands on the subject of slander is satisfactory. No person can suppose that the Messrs. Chamberlain are now so anxious to belong to the Reform Club that they set high pecuniary estimate on the damage done to them by their exclusion from it. In the present state of the law as a action for similar will not be unless the slanderer imputes to the slandered some criminal offence, or the latter can prove that he has sustained some pecuniary damage. Moreover, the present litigation may be said in a measure to have been forced upon the Messrs. Chamberlaim. There were three courses which they placed at the disposal of Mr. Boyd. One was to submit the whole question of their alleged missonduct in an antipodean club to a court of honor whose decision was to be final; the second was to withdraw the charge; the third was to substantiate and justify the charge in a court of law. Mr. Boyd did not adopt any one of these courses. He set up a demurrer, which was in effect an evasion of the lesse, and which was pronounced by Lord Justice Brett to be "the strongest acknowledgment by the defendant that he had used words which he could not justify." This is the official and authoritative deliverance of Sir Ballol Brett: "He (the defendant) may deny that he has used the words and is not prepared to justify them. But a deliverance of the horder to justify them. But a demurrer does not do any one of these things, and it comes to thus, so far as the defendant is concerned—"I did use the words; I will not withdraw them; but I will prevent you from putting me to the proof as to whether or not they are the form. In the first is stance, the demurrer w

A PASTOR AS BUILDING INSPECTOR.

Prom The Port-Jereis Reening Gazette.

Rev. H. S. Cobb, for the past twelve years the popular pastor of the Reformed Church at Saugerties, surprised his congregation last Sunday by tendering his resignation. Last summer the church parson age was destroyed by fire, and to rebuild it the pastor raised $3,000, which, together with $3,000 insurance, was ample for the work. The building committee of the church, against the earnest protest of Mr. Cobb, concluded to save some of the money by utilizing the walls and foundation of the burned building, and using what balance they could save of the $6,000 towards the church debt. As the money was gaised for the parsonage and not for the church, Mr. Cobb would not submit to fi, and informed the committee that "if they built on the old foundation he would not occupy the building."

The committee had "their Dutch up," however, and went on and built, using the same walls which after the fire they had placarded as unsafe. As the pastor had publicly said that he would not occupy the parsonage, he sent in his raignation, that being the only dignified, honorable and manly course that he could pursue. Mr. Cobb's action is approved by his congregation, although they denounce the stupicity of the committee which placed him in such a predicament, and that, too, arainst the wish of his congregation. As his congregation had no idea that their pastor was to resign, the announcement fell upon them like a thunderboit, and created universal regret and sorrow.

THE MONEY MARKET.

SUNDAY, April 8-P. M. The Custom House returns for last week show small movements both of imports and exports at this port. The imports of merchandise at New-York last week ($8,293,985) were $3,257.485 smaller than for the week of 1882, and $2,374,698 greater than for the week of 1881. The exports of mer-chandise ($5,763,609) were $901,516 smaller than for the extraordinary small movement of the week of 1882 and were $3,281,207 less than for the week of 1881. For the fourteen weeks of each of three years the imports of merchandise have exceeded the exports of merchandise as follows: 1883, $34.657,590; 1882, $53,189,026; 1881, $12,-447,035. But including the specie movements the balance against the port for the fourteen weeks of this year ($35,512,840) is only $4,665,808 less than for the same period of 1882 and is $7,260,642 greater than for the same period of 1881.

The following table shows the totals of imports and exports, other than of securities, at New-York; from January 1 to date, for three years:

MERCHANDISE. Imports in excess of exports..... $12,447,035 $53,189,026 $34,657,590 SPECIE. Imports in exocas of exports...... $15,805,163 Exports in excess of imports..... $13,010,378

The United States Treasurer's statement of lia-bilities and assets as of April 1 shows a gain of only $4,406,362 in its actual cash balance over its demand liabilities at that date, as compared with its balances of March 1. The gain, in gold, United States notes and National bank notes, actually in the Treasury's vaults, in excess of certificates in circulation as money, was only $2,829,390 for the month; the gain in silver (of all kinds) in excess of ertificates in circulation, was $816,361 -in silver dollars $488,290, in fractional coin $358,718, less $30 647 reduction in silver builion. The statement does not include as a liability $3,227,033 interest accrued, but not due, nor does it include any part of the $15,000,000 bonds embraced in the 120th call-made payable April 4, 11 and 18. By the statement the cash, exclusive of silver, appli-cable as a reserve against $346,000,000 notes in came as a reserve against $33,000,000 hotes in circulation, as money, was only 9,62 per cent, against 18,64 per cent on March 1; including the silver belonging to the Treasury, exclusive of the $27,865,994 of non-legal tender fractional coin, the reserve was only 304 per cent.

In our asual form we present an analysis of the Treasurer's statement of April 1, 1883, as fol-

Net silver dollars belonging to the Treasury.... $32,722,314 Practional sliver coin. 27,866.904 The smaliness of the gain in eash ($655,500), shown by yesterday's bank statement is inexplicable by the known movements of money during the week. By the operations of the Sub-Treasury for the week ended on Friday night the banks gained

$2,860,698 specie and lost $128,828 currency, leaving the net gain $2,731,870. The specie gain was so distributed as to average in the statement as only about $1,100,000. In addition, the imports of gold, exclusive of that amount which passed through the Assay Office and which therefore is included in the Sub-Trensary operations, amounted to $420,000, and the interior movement of currency was supposed to be upward of $1,000,000 in favor of the banks. In addition to that the amount of each held a week ago in excess of the amount shown by the statement of that date was about $1,500,000, as estimated by the same rules which heretofore have produced results that have proved to be approximately correct. Yet yesterday's statement shows a gain in specie of only $1,533,600, and a tose in legal tender of $878,100. It is true that the deposits are increased $550,200, less the amount of increase called for by the other changes, but that discrepancy should be accounted for by the collection of April raterest upon bonds belonging to the banks (which, while swelling the amount of cash,

000 of the new gold certificates, leaving the amount

$200,000 in gold com for that amount of silver certificates to be issued at New-Orleans, and it paid $229,802 Assay Office checks for foreign coin and bullion. All of these items went into its statement of receipts and payments. Hence the Treasury's true loss at New-York for the week was $2,761,672. The local money market ruled active and high rates predominated during the early part of the week, ranging from 10 to 20 per cent, but after Wednesday the movements were easier, with rates prevailing at 6 and 7 per cent with almost daily exceptions (after the business of the day was practically finished) at rates down to 4 per cent. The rates on Government bonds were 5 to 6 per cent. Mercantile paper moved more freely than it had before for a long time, and first class names were negotiable at 6@7 per cent. The reported quotations for the domestic exchanges on New-York ruled favorable to the city, but there are some indications that the quotations given to the public are more or less fictitions; the character of the bank statement, as well as the fact that, despite a premium quotation for commercial bills at New-Orleans all the week $200,000 was remitted there from this city through the agency of the Sub-Treasury, are sufficient to justify a sus-picion that the quotations are tampered with. The foreign exchanges sharply advanced during the week and rates for business closed on the basis of $4 83 and $4 85 12 respectively for long and short sterling against $4 813s and $4 837s a week ago. THE TRIBUNE needs not to look beyond its own columns for an explanation of the changes which had occurred in the market for foreign exchange. On February 26 THE THIBUNE said: "The foreign exchanges were dull all the week; the mercantile demand for bankers' bills was small, although it is certain that the remittances for our large importations sooner or later must be made"; and on March 12 it insisted that the movement of gold from Europe to America, which then had just commenced, was a movement part-ly forced and not at all due to the conditions of our foreign commerce, and after commenting on these conditions and the state of the money markets of London and New-York, it said: "Hence it is the condition of the interior trade rather than that of the foreign balances which is exerting a momentary effect upon the exchange markets." With easier money in our own market the rates naturally advanced, although the mercantile demand has not yet reached its legitimate proportions.

sented no changes of a favorable character. There were an unusual number of mercantile failures reported, and some of them involving large amounts of liabilines. In the grain and provision markets the shrinkage in prices was large, amounting to about 5 cents for wheat, 3 cents for corn, 3749 cents for pork and 30 cents for lard. The causes which led to these respective declines are of more importance than the fact of the declines themselves. They were due less to improved reports concerning the growing crops than to a falling off of the immediate demand, which makes a carrying of the heavy accumulations from recent free deliveries a burdensome matter. The decline for grain in Europe rather led than followed the declines in the New-York and Chicago markets. The scantiness of the export demand is accurately reflected in the freight rates to Europe, which have dropped to 334@43s cents a bushel for grain. Receipts of wheat and corn at the principal Western points last week were considerably smaller than they had been for the preceding weeks and the movement by rail to the Atlantic scaports also shows a large falling-off. The shipments eastward from Chicago of grain last week were only 16,522 and of floor 7,688 tons against 9,523 tons. The total shipments of flour, grain and provisions were 30.647 tons against 48,092 tons for the preceding week, 28,172 tons for the same week of 1882 and 53,963 tons for the same week of 1881. The following shows the comparative shipments by each road out of Chicago for the last week of 1882 and 1882.

The speculation in cotton during the week was active, at declining figures for futures, while the prices for spot are from 1s to 5-16 lower than a week ago. The exports for the week were 94,868 bales making the total exports from September 1, 1882, to date, 3,785,337 bales, or 1,120,000 bales than the exports for the same more period of the preceding year. The iron market, iron, continues dull with no transactions of importance, and the few that are made are down at considrable concessions from the nominal quotations. The situation of the coal market remains unchanged. The production thus far this year has been nearly 15 percent greater than for the same time last year and stocks are accumulating. To offset this condition of affairs, the companies resort to the old time method of restricting production; yet sales are reported through second hands at concessions from the companies' circular prices. The Stock Exchange markets last week generally were in marked contrast with the outside situation. Buoyancy was the prevailing and continous feature of the week in all the different departments, except the Government department. Government bonds were not particularly active and their prices were arregular; early there were declines for all the issucs and later sharp recoveries for the long-date issues. The final changes in the bids show declines of $12$ and $58$ per cent respectively for the 3s and $128$, and advances of $36$ for the 4s and $4128$. Among State bonds there was very little doing outside of the Arkansas 7s to the railroads, which were moderately active at advancing prices; the Tennessee compromise bonds also were strong. Among railroad bonds, the New-York, West Shore and Buffalo 5s were a marked feature in the week's dealings, and, with very large transactions, they advanced over 3 per cent. The activity in them, however, was due to manipulation rather than to any actual investment demand, although there is little doubt that their merits and the prices at which they have been ruling, warrant such a demand. Mutual-Union Telegraph 6s. Canada Southern 5s, and Texas and Pacific incomes were also active at advancing figures; but the general market for bonds was dull and prices only about steady. sues. The final changes in the bids show declines

The result of the statement is so inconsistent with calculations based upon known movements that it is impossible to make a satisfactory estimate of the true conditions at the close of business on Friday night. The unfavorable feature of the statement is the expansion of the loans to an amount represented by an average of $909.300, despite the fact that the reserve is still 1.32 per cent below the requirements of the 25 per cent rule. The result shown by the statement is a decrease of $399.450 in the delect, leaving it at $3,701,000, which is $4,512,630 was than the position at the same date in 1882.

THE PETROLEUM MARKET.

NEW-YORK, April 8. News from the oil regions last week was as proved to be to most of the dealers who tried to base their operations successfully upon it. Some good wells came in early, but later in the week the developments regarding the new wells were encouraging to the "buils."
A partial mystery was attempted to be made out of the new Weish mill. It was expected in early, but some de-lay occurred to prevent a report of its condition until within the last few days. Even then no satisfactory gauge of its output could be obtained, and while it ap pears to be flowing fitfully, the ultimate importance of the well is still a subject of pure conjecture. The reports of the Pipe Lines for the first few days of the month are favorable to producers. The figures are as follows from

If this decrease in the excess of deliveries from previous records is continued it will be worth more to the general argument of the "bulls" than an ocean of assertion that the fertility of the known producing regions is steadily showing signs of exhaustion. There was a heavy decrease in the total amount of dealings at the
